

Maria Lucia Pop is a medical doctor, clinical psychologist, and specialist in Psychiatry. She has worked in Romania, Italy and since 2014 in Aalborg, Denmark.

She is employed as a senior doctor at Sexological Center, Aalborg University Hospital, Denmark. She is a member of the multidisciplinary team in the hospital's Center for Gender Identity and has participated in establishing the Center since its inception. She is also a member of the National Committee established under the Danish Health Authority focused on the advancement of knowledge and research on transgender health.

In the previous seven years, she has worked with assessment and treatment of sexual dysfunctions in both individuals and couples, but her primary focus has been on assessment and gender-affirming care for transgender and nonbinary people. Her primary research interests concern, therefore, transgender and nonbinary people's needs for healthcare, gender affirmation, improvement in quality of life and thriving, as well as the mental health professional's role in addressing these needs.
