Marta Skrodzka, Poland

Ms Skrodzka is a Consultant Urologist and Andrological-Genitourinary Reconstructive Surgeon. She brings valuable experience and specialist knowledge to our community.

She practises at St.George's University Hospital and Nuffield Health Parkside Hospital in London, where she offers a wide range of urological care. Her work has a strong focus on functional restoration, reconstructive surgery and patient-centred treatment.

Her areas of expertise include:

- treatment of erectile dysfunction including penile prosthetics
- Peyronie's disease and penile curvature
- andrological and genitourinary reconstructive surgery
- treatment of complex genital conditions as Lichen sclerosus, penile cancer, genital lymphoedema and burried penis

She served as a chair of ESSM Scientific Committee for Reconstructive Surgery. She is a lecturer for European School of Urology, Educational Director of ESU- ESAU-ESGURS Masterclass on erectile restoration and Peyronie's disease, Member of European Society of Genitourinary Reconstructive Surgeons, Member of the Educational Committee of ESSM, Associated editor for Central European Journal of Urology – Andrology Section and Associated editor for Video Journal of Sexual Medicine.

Marta Skrodzka, Poland

Ms Skrodzka has published multiple peer- reviewed research articles and book chapters. She is invited as faculty at national and international conferences.

Her training largely done in Poland included Scholarship in Reconstructive Urology in University Hospital Hamburg-Eppendorf, Germany and EAU Scholarship Programme at Sava Perovic Foundation Reconstructive Centre Belgrade, Serbia. She received her PhD in 2012 in sexual medicine.

Her sub-specialty qualifications are confirmed by two European exams: Fellow of European Committee of Sexual Medicine and Clinical Andrologist of European Academy of Andrology. She is fellowship-trained in Andrology and Penile Reconstruction at the Institute of Urology, University College London Hospital and St.George's University Hospital, London, United Kingdom.

Ms Skrodzka's expertise is a wonderful addition to our committee.

Her commitment to high-quality care, education and innovation reflects the values of our society.